I.O.O.F. Church Service

Combined Oddfellows and Masonic Orders Made Good Turnout and Service is Splendid Success.

Thirty-Six Lodges Represented

The first I.O.O.F. Church Service to be held in Empress took place on Sunday last, March 30. A meeting was held on the evening previous and the Masonic brethren resident in town agreed to turn out to the service in conjunction with the Oddfellows.

No better proof of the strength and appeal these two orders have on their members can be found than in the fact that this kind thirty-six different lodges being represented. Out of this number only two members of one lodge were present, the rest being members of different lodges. A walk took place from Mr. Petersen's store to the place of worship. Bro. Rev. R. C. Harrington, conducted service and gave an interesting and earnest sermon.

After the service a meeting was held in Mr. Petersen's Store where a vote of thanks drawn up by Mr. S. Acheson, and signed by four N.G.'s was presented to Mr. Harrington in appreciation of his services, and also the proceeds of a collection taken up among the brethren for this purpose. The following is a list of lodges and members:

To Ask for Gas Franchise

A petition requesting the granting of a franchise for natural gas was circulated by Mr. F. Ogletree on Monday. The name of the company seeking a franchise is the Empress Gas Company which Mr. Ogletree claims is really himself and two outside parties. Gas, if struck, will be sold at 10c per 1,000 cubic feet to the manufacturer, and 30c per thousand feet for household use. We understand that the proposition of Mr. Ogletree is to be laid before the council at their next meeting which takes place on Monday the 6th of April. A majority of signatures having been secured.

Will Employ 1,200 Men

Work on the Bassano-Swift Current cut-off is making rapid progress. There will be 1,200 men employed on the construction, there is every indication that this work being completed by August 1st.—Mail, Bassano.

Police Court

The first trial to be held in Empress took place on Tuesday March 31 at 3 p.m., being tried by Mr. N. D. Storey, J.P. The plaintiff was Mrs. Boyd, who lives on her son's homestead about two miles out of town, and Mr. F. X. Lambert, the cause of dispute being a small cooking range. Mr. Lambert was ordered to give up possession of range and pay costs.

A second trial was held on Wednesday, at 8 p.m., before Mr. N. D. Storey, J.P. Mr. H. A. Loeb v. Mr. Herring. Judgment was given in favor of Mr. Loeb, defendant and plaintiff being ordered to pay their own costs.

McDonald & Davis Camp Return

Messrs. McDonald & Davis returned with their outfit to this district the beginning of the week. Their camp is located about two miles west of town.

Empress View

March 28th
Mr. Will Burridge, who has been spending the winter in Ontario, has returned.

Mr. Hugh Miller had the misfortune to break a line while drying, allowing the team to run away. When captured one horse was found to be badly cut up by a barbed wire fence. Mr. Miller escaped with a sprained foot.

It seems to be rather early, but we understand that two of our neighbors took a bath in the river recently.

The interest in the club meetings has been well kept up during the winter.

Mr. Henderson is now in Alaska with a car of stock from Ontario, where he spent the winter.

Mr. Mills has moved in his new house. Keep your eyes on the clothes line.

Mr. Livermore and bride have returned from the States and are snugly settled here. We wish you and your bride a long and happy life, Fat.

Mr. Sweeney spent Sunday at Mr. Bolton's.

Reception

Mrs. William Robertson, of Empress, Alta., received for the first time since her marriage, with her mother, 40 Cowan avenue. The bride wore her wedding gown of ivory duchess satin, its overdress of net being embroidered with silk and pearls. She carried American Beauties. Her mother, Mrs. J. Whitmore Aston, was in a lovely gown of pearl grey satin, draped with net of the same shade, and trimmed with cut steel. She wore lilies of the valley and violets as a corsage bouquet. Quantities of Easter lilies were in the drawing room, the effect of bridal white being further accentuated by white flowers in numerous cut glass vases. Mrs. James Foote looked after the guests, wearing brocaded white chignon with touches of pink and a large picture hat. The tea table was done in yellow, Florentine lace centring it, a large basket of daffodils resting upon it, surrounded by cut glass vases. Mrs. Robert Law and Mrs. Wm. Hillock were in charge here, the former wearing old gold brocade satin, the latter in pink satin draped in mon. Miss Laura and Miss Greta Good-fellow and Miss Leroy of To-

Fly Time is Here

By the aid of higher arithmetic it may be shown what a family a single pair of flies in March could muster before the end of summer. Counting 150 eggs at once and five or six hatching during the fly's life time, there would be about 1,000,000 cubic feet of flies in the family by fall.

Of course, that kind of figuring is inexact. Nature doesn't permit any of her tenants to breed in such fashion.

So, naturalists observe, a flea Has smaller fleas that on him prey And these have smaller still to [bite 'em And so proceed to infinitum.

Plenty of creatures, larger and smaller, are waiting for a juicy fly to come along. They save us each year from such a plague as Egypt never saw.

But the moral is the same. This is the time of year to swat the fly. One successful swat now is worth a hundred in July.

"Baby" Beef

We live in a short age. We no longer have time for the more leisurely discharge of duties or the transaction of business that characterized an earlier day. The telephone and the telegraph, the swift mails and fast train have speeded us up until we do all things in a hurry. Only on the farm, it seems, does the old order still prevail.

And now the suggestion is solemnly put forth that we should speed up the farmer. The world needs beef. It needs hides. Ordinarily it cannot get these short of four years from the birth of a steer. It takes four years by established methods to finish a beast for market. Now comes the Wall Street News to protest that this is too slow. We must grow beef more quickly. We cannot produce four-year-old steers, it is true, short of four years. But why wait four years before market-interests?

A carload of yearling cattle was recently sold on the Chicago market that averaged 1,200 pounds apiece. "Baby-beef" they call these youngsters and the Wall Street News thinks it sees in the production of such cattle a solution of the beef problem. Progressive breeders, it points out, are discarding the old-time, slow maturing steer, and are producing a quick maturing animal that at 12 or 16 months will go to the block weighing as much as the average steer that now goes to the market.

The newly-devised steer has distinct points of advantage. The quality of the beef is superior to the slower growing animal, and the expense to the farmer of carrying him is greatly lessened. He can raise more steers on his land in less time than it takes to produce the old-time beef steer. Time and tide, it seems, will wait for no steer. If he cannot get ready for the block short of four years he will have to make way for a swifter breed that will be ready for the axe in time to preserve our dinner tables from depletion, and our household pocket books from bankruptcy.

A Homesteader's Ballad

Squatted out here on a bunch of hills,

Defying the winds with their [snows and chills,

A government claim myself I [did choose

And for three long years I shall [live a recluse,

Far, far away from the [master's hands,

Boss of yourself on these fair [prairie lands.

You are far from the sweet [shop and noise of the town,

And you live like a king though [lacking a crown,

You have plenty of neighbors [you can count by the score

For there are coyotes, gophers and [various gophers,

Can go hunting and trapping [in your own set of snare,

Neither lured by fence nor [traps or gate,

I sh and worry and try and [be good,

FOREST FIRE LOSSES, 1913

Dominion Forestry Branch Reports a Remarkably Small Loss

The lowest level of forest loss on record in Canada was reached this year as the Dominion Forestry Branch reports. From the first of April to the end of September several of these reserves escaped without a single acre over ten acres in extent. The only one that did not escape being extinguished by the rangers before occasioning any damage to standing timber. On the Rocky Mountain Forest Reserve, which has an area of 15,717 acres, the Dominion Forestry Branch estimated 1,150 acres of young timber, valued at $150,000, were lost. The total area burnt over, more than half of which was timber or grass land, was but 2,010 acres, representing only 0.02 per cent of the area of this reserve. On the Dominion Forestry reserves in British Columbia, which have a total area of 2,420,489 acres, not a single fire succeeded in spreading over a larger area than ten acres, and the only green timber injured by fire was four acres of young lodgepole pine. The records are not yet complete for Saskatchewan and Manitoba, but the available figures compare favorably with the ones cited. The above figures also compare favorably with corresponding ones on the National Forests of the United States, where the area burned in 1913, although the smallest in recent years, was some what over 600 per cent of the total reserved area.

In the Fire Districts on Dominion Crown Lands in the west patrolled by fire rangers the loss, as occasioned by forest fires last season, was not remarkably small, nor is this due wholly to the fact that the season in which fell last summer in the west, for there were certainly losses in the west where frequent fires occurred, which only the alertness of the fire rangers prevented from occasioning large losses. In the Coast Fire Ranging District, B.C., which being situated in the Halcyon Belt is administered by the Dominion Forestry Branch, during the months of July and August no less than 110 fires occurred, yet all of these fires were extinguished by the fire rangers before any standing timber was destroyed.

One of the commonest complaints of forest fires, and the most effective application for them is "Mother Grove's" Worm Exterminator.

What He Would Do

The man hurried into a quick-lunch restaurant called to the waiter: "Give me a hand sandwich."

Yes, said the waiter. Will you eat it here or take it with you?

Both, said the patron.

Hard to Please

Boarder: "What for breakfast this morning?"

Waitress: "I hope not ham and eggs again."

Boarder: "No, sir, not this morning."

Waitress: "Thank goodness. What is it?"

Boarder: "Only ham, sir."

Waitress: "Is that?"

Boarder: "Yes, he's got no other lawyers, four bookkeepers and seven expert accountants figuring out his income tax."

Chromosome Scandalous

Gossip (at top of her voice as tube train rushes along)—Why do I stop talking at the station? My good girl, do you suppose I want everybody to hear all about Aunt Sophie and the chauffeur?

New: to Him

Minister—So you've turned over a new leaf, Sandy? I was indeed glad to see you at our prayer meeting last night.

Sandy (ruffled reprobatly)—Is that what I was? I didn't know I was a minister!

Mistaken Identity

General—Hello, Willie, old man. Not one of your centurions? Scarcely recognized you, assistant and all that's altered you so much?

General stranger—Pardon me, sir, my name is not Willie.

General idiot—That's bad! Altered you, name, too!

Yes, the professor was saying. It is a very simple thing to tell truth by their bark.

How wonderful! she exclaimed. And can you tell the various kinds of dogs that way?

Tell me, said the lady to the old soldier, were you used to be bald?

Cool! said the truthful veteran, why fairly shivered.

SUFFERED 20 YEARS

With Kidney Trouble Cured by Gin Pills

Mr. Daniel P. Fraser, of Bridgeville, Pa., writes: "I have been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Disease, and have been treated by many doctors but found little relief. I had given up hope of being cured when I tried GIN PILLS. Now I can say with a happy heart, 'I am cured after using only four boxes of GIN PILLS.' 50c a Box, or $2.50 a Sample free if you write National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto."

Quite Right

Patience and perseverance will accomplish all things, was a favorite saying of an old miller.

"He had just made this remark in a train one day on the way to market, when a pompous individual in the corner turned to him crossly and said:

"Nonsense, sir! I can tell you a yet many things which neither patience nor perseverance can accomplish."

"Perhaps you can," said the miller, but I have never yet come across one who could carry water in a sieve."

Well, then, I'll tell you one. Will patience and perseverance ever enable you to carry water in a sieve? Certainly.

I would like to know how. Simply by waiting patiently for the water to freeze.

Only Dry Ones

In a town in western Canada the dry weather was being discussed by two travelling men.

"I've got plenty of white clouds were rolling by, and one of the men remarked: 'There certainly looks like rain.'"

No chance, the other remarked those are just empties coming back from the saloons."

Didn't Phase Him

But she objected, you must remember that one of my ancestors came from the West Indies. I am sure my people would object to you, on the ground that your grandfather was an immigrant.

We descendants of the Pilgrims are very proud of our stock, Willie, I suppose you have a right to be proud of yours.

I've got three or four more, and they are all Pilgrims working for me, and they seem to be good, honest fellows."

DOCTOR SAID HE HAD DIABETES

DOCTOR'S KIDNEY PILLS CLEARED OUT EVERY TRACE OF IT

That's Why Mr. David Heen, of Nicolet Co., Quebec, is Recommending the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy to His Neighbors.

Dr. Wenceslas, Nicolet Co., Que. (Social)—"I started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills because the doctor told me I was troubled with diabetes. After taking three boxes I was examined by the doctor, and he told me that all trace of diabetes had disappeared."

This is the statement of Mr. David Heen, well known and highly respected in his neighborhood, who has found in Dodd's Kidney Pills the best remedy for his kidney trouble.

Heen told us that it was this that have given Dodd's Kidney Pills their reputation. They are the best remedy for the Atlantic to the Pacific as the remedy that never fails to cure kidney trouble no matter where or in what form it is found.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all. They simply cure diseased kidneys. The reason they cure diabetes, dropsy, rheumatism, neuralgia, headache, urinary troubles and all kidney ailments is that all of these are either diseases of the kidney or are caused by diseased kidneys, the failing to do their work.

I know it, but when his wife lectures him all he has to do is shut his eyes and end the conversation.

They had just become engaged. What joy it will be, she exclaimed, for me to share all your grief and sorrow!

But, darling! he protested; I have never shared any grief or sorrow.

No, she answered; but when we are married you will have.

Slump in Turtle Soup

Until recently it was customary to divide the turtle soup which was undiminished at the lord mayor's banquet in London among the poor on the following day, but experience showed that its value was unappreciated by the recipients, and that half the soup was poured into the Gullinall yard within a quarter of an hour of the distribution.

When the soup was last distributed its value was estimated at $300, but as the merchants were not on the poor relief list, the mayor ordered a committee decided to substitute cold chicken.

In accordance with a custom which has been observed for centuries, the provisions that remained after the banquet were distributed recently to about 150 poor people. The work of distribution "an undertaking" by the mayor's committee, who were wearing white aprons, took their places beside the tables, which were laden with food, and they began to dole out the provisions. Each person who presented himself received a substantial share of the food.

Snake Fascinated by Cat

It is stated that the cat has hypnotic power over snakes.

A gentleman who had lived forty-four years in India told me that he had once seen a cobra saved by his cat. On one occasion he walked on to the verandah and accidentally trod on a cobra that was sitting up ready to strike. He expected every moment to feel the cobra's fangs and wondered why it delayed, when he happened to notice his cat crouching and gazing at the reptile steadily with mesmeric effect, for it seemed unable to move, and while he was in this condition he killed it. An amateur while sleeping on an open cot in the verandah, he woke to find on one side of the bed a huge cobra with head erect ready to strike, on the other the glistering green eyes of his cat. The snake reared quite still, so he ran into the room to fetch a gun, and coming back poised the reptile head in the doorway, but it did not seem to take the slightest notice and seemed like a statue, not lifelike creature. He then placed his hand in front of the cat's eyes by way of experiment, when immediately the spell was removed, the cobra raised itself, hissed, and assumed an offensive attitude. He then took his hand away and the cobra again crouched and gazed again, in which state it was shot.

Minard's Liment Cure Diptheria

Now, Willie, said the teacher to the bad little boy, as he took up the ruler, it is going to hurt me more than it will you.

All right, said Willie, then let me do the valloping.

Nodd—Can your wife keep a secret?

Todd—Well, I should say so. She never lets on how much she orders when she goes shopping.

Of Course Not

Doctor, this bill is atrocious and I won't pay it," said the patient irritably. Besides I'm no better than I was before I came to you anyway.

Of course you're no better, retorted the physician, and all because you won't pay for your medicine.

Oh! said the patient. Of course I didn't take it. I don't owe you anything for it. Good evening.

A Matter of Relationship

Two chance acquaintances from Ireland were talking together.

"Are you good's Rily?" said one. Are you any relation to Tim Rily?"

Yes, said the other. Of course I was me mother's first child, and Tim was the twelfth.

Willie Knew

Little Willie knew one day with the girl next door, when the latter exclaimed:

"Don't you hear your mother calling you? That's three times she's done so. Aren't you coming?"

Well, exclaimed Willie in disgust. She ain't going to whip nobody, she's got company. So when I go in she'll say my mother's gone shopping."

Tenacious

She got the football game—Who is that man that all the players are staring around arguing with?

He (fastering the Phil question)—Oh, that's the fellow who's keeping the score.

She—And won't he give it up?

Fresh Supplies in Demand

What little boy can tell me the difference between the 'quint' and the 'quint' asked the Sunday-school teacher.

Willie waited his hand frantically.

Well, sir.

Please explain, the 'quint' are the ones that get out of the way of auto-nomous; the 'dead' are the ones that don't.

My wife, said Mr. Clark, sent me two dollars in answer to an advertisement of a method of getting rid of superfluous hair.

And what did she get for the money? Was the information what she wanted? asked Mr. Simmons.

Well, she got a very telling letter to tell to the soap man.

A Natural Mistake

From the bedroom of the twin boys came the mingled sounds of loud laughing and hearty laughter, so faint and went up to investigate.

What's the matter up here? he inquired.

The boys twin indicated his checking brother. Nothing, he chuckled only nurse has given Alexander two baths and hasn't given me any.

Do you know the penalty for perjury? asked the cross-examining lawyer sternly.

Well, sir, what is the penalty for perjury? hummed the lawyer.

It's getting easier, to the assembly and going to a lecture tour, answered the witness.

Concrete Grain Elevators

Are the best grain insurance that you can have against fire or damage of any sort. They are proof against rodents that gnaw their way into ordinary buildings and carry away the farmer's profits. They save storage charges by enabling you to store your own grain until you can obtain better prices.

Elevators built of concrete maintain a dry, even temperature. They cannot rot, rust, or even require no repairs or paint—in short, they are the cheapest kind of elevator the grain farmer can build.

Let us send you the free book, "What the Farmer can do with Concrete." It tells all about concrete farm buildings and how to build them, and about dozens of other things that the farmer can do with concrete.

The Girl's Bread-winners

What a change has taken place within the last quarter of a century in the method of life of the daughters in the family! From the quiet and secluded home the girls have come out to the great world of work and with the great crowd of workers, and whether by male or female, to feel the strain and fatigue of the breadwinner.

The blood gets thin and watery, the digestive system is deranged, the appetite fails, and the starved nerves tell of their condition by aching pains and bodily aches. Dr.
Chase's Nerve Food is needed, and vigor to the body and bring back the health of the woman.

Hot Air
My wife had a hot for me this morning.

How was that?
I insisted on her getting up to continue a lot of ignorance.

BLUE AND DISCOURAGED

Mrs. Hamilton Tells How She Finally Found Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Warren, Ind.—"I was bothered terribly with female weakness. I had pains and to let me rest and I was so my head ached all the time, and I was not sleeping, and I was so my back hurt me the biggest part of the time, it was and had weak feeling when I would stop over my mind to walk and I was discouraged."

"I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now in good health. It is the best medicine
I have ever taken. It has done more for me than any other medicine I have ever taken."

HAMILTON, R.F.D. No. 6, Warren, Ind.

Another Case.

Emmond, R.I.—"I write to tell you how much good your medicine has done me and to let other women who are troubled like I was, know that there is help for them. I suffered with bearing down pains, headache, was irregular and felt blue and discouraged all the time. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and commenced to feel better in a short time and was well today. I am in my first period from early morning until late at night, and feeling better and all my own work.
I hope that many suffering women will try your medicine. It makes happy wives and mothers."

Mrs. Anna Hammond, R.I.

An Inference

NO WASHDAY

The Co-Operative Plan to be Extended in the Rural Home.

No washday this week or next week, washday a thing of the past, a memory of the olden times, when the women of the household did the washing and stinging linens in the bitter winter days. Washday is a thing of the past, and the difference to the life of the farmer's wife? Honest now, has the farmer's wife been getting a square deal? The farmer has machinery to help him but the wife has no such thing. For making housework light and easy is too expensive for the farmer to think of getting it.
The farmer has a cow when it is wet and stays in the barn during the winter—but his wife must cook and sweep in and in day out, winter and summer.

Well, in one community in Western Canada they have banished washday.
In the village those progressive farmers have established a co-operative laundry. For some time there has been a co-operative laundry and one team "team work" and there is no telling where it will end. Someone thought that if machinery could do the good thing that is to be done, it could do it. The laundry is the first step toward wiping out his wife's idea of "washday." To someone else it occurred the cream came next just as well take the clothes to and from the laundry. Here then was a very great saving in expense.

In some of our Western communities where the consolidated School Van driver might do the work of his wife, thinking about and worth a trial.

No long ago, I came across a report of a Dry Farming Community in Western Canada. Why should all the women in the community be school bus drivers? The following day I saw a woman in the school room by her mother's side. The school bus was the first step toward wiping out his wife's idea of "washday."

It has been wisely said that a nation cannot be higher than its women.
The very women are the backbone of the nation. "Educate a boy and you educate an individual. Educate a girl and you educate a whole family."

However, I am planning for the future. Education for the girl is for both are equally concerned in the education of the nation—since the girl is the unit of the nation's civilization. The district school, supported by public funds, with its local character, is the best way to the best local school for an institution that can give the whole family the best greater degree of efficiency than it has ever known.

I yield not to the temptation of suggesting to you why the farm women cannot escape the influence of the school, the school, church and social work of the community. The school is the subject came up, to discussion before my class studying "Country Life and Problems." A young man, in order to make his point clear, gave a summary of the school, church and social work of the community. He said that at that season of the year. I ran down the list of the school, church and social work of the community.

1. Prepare breakfast while men are at work.

2. Leave dishes, hurry to the cellar to get the milk, and then to the distant well to fill milk—carry out the sour and returned milk to the cellar, and then to the kitchen to wash and carry out to sun."

3. Hurry, wash dishes.

4. Prepare the vegetables and fruit for dinner.

5. Wash dishes, feed poultry, sew clothes, put out the fire or vegetable oil.

6. Get supper, wash dishes, look after poultry and milk, work in the garden.

7. Scrub kitchen on certain evenings—after the family have retired, to "rubbing the floor."

12. Retire about 10 p.m.

13. The woman who takes no ac-

World's Biggest Dividend Payer

The Colonial Diamond Mining Co. of German Southwest Africa is possibly the world's biggest dividend payer. It has reduced its 1913 dividend by 1,500 to 2,500 per cent, having paid 3,800 per cent for 1912. In 1910, 2,400 per cent was paid and 2,500 per cent in 1911. The company's capital is only 2,500. Its managing director and chief shareholder was once on a humble railway official named Satch. He will soon be made chairman of the German Imperial diamond administration.

Oldest Ball Game

Tennis is pronounced the oldest of all existing ball games. It is impossible to give its origin, but it was played in Europe during the middle ages in the parks or ditches of the feudal estates. It was first the pastime of kings and nobles, but later it grew popular with all classes. The French took it from the Italians, and the English from the French.

Lady Laurier

TO

Mr. Gerhard

Heintzman

Lady Laurier wishes to convey to Mr. Gerhard Heintzman her sincere congratulations for the magnificent Boudoir Grand Piano which he manufactured for her by the order of the citizens of Quebec. She admires the artistic finish of the case, but especially the perfection of the mechanism, the fine tonal qualities and musical resources of the superb instrument.

AND SOME - TIME LATER

I love my piano more and more, it awoke in me my old love for music. I practise a little every day.
